SUMMER STATER

Vol. 6, No. 1 July 2, 1943

TO THE STUDENTS OF SAN FRANCISCO STATE COLLEGE SUMMER SCHOOL:

A hearty welcome and warm greetings to the students enrolled in our 1943 Summer Session. We are plesed that so many of you feel that our offerings are of great value in these challenging times. We trust that in addition to finding help in educational methods and materials that you will also be able to take vantage of the many fine recreational and cultural opportunities which the college and city have to offer.

We are always seeking means of making our summer session of most value to the students, and will greatly appreciate any and all suggestions which you may care to make. My office hours are from 9 to 10, 11 to 12, and 1 till 5 daily, and I shall be glad to have you come in and visit. Other members of the faculty will also be happy to have you consult them on any of your educational problems.

Walter J. Homan
Director, Summer Session

Is your long-lost uncle trying to get in touch with you?. Is there a check awaiting you ? Has someone phoned while you were in class? Wanna find out? The Co-op has a department just for the purpose of letting you know when such momentous events occur.

Down in the Co-op, next to the free ink, a pidgeon-holed cabinet is maintained to handle incoming calls and mail for Summer-Session Staters. You shold make it a regular habit to drop in during the day and look for missives.

YOU DONT HAVE TO BE CRAZY; But It Helps !

Her we sit, facing this fourty seven keyed monster they c ll a typewriter and wondering if this perodical will ever hit the hall by the deadline set for it to appear. We warn you , from here on in we are just going to throw words in, to get the'colyum' filled.

Actually , things don't look absolutly black, just bleak. For unless some poor, innocent , students who don't know what they are getting into , come along , we shall be spending all week on this sheet.

Frankly , we are in need of a staff, Any kind of a staff. At present we will welcome any stud in any capacity. No ability is needed, look at us to make sure. If you want to write a column on anything , or learn how, just come on in to Room 119 ,College Hall and sign up. And quickly.

In fact, in case anyone would be fool enough to want the job, the editorship is open to the first applicant to come along. This unworthy son of Allah having been chosen by hizzoner , the President to serve his country as of July 15th, next.

HOLD THAT DATE ! ICE FOLLIES COMING

Planned as next week's social highlight , over a hundred Staters will attend the 1943 Ice Follies in a body next Thursday nite.

A block of choice seats has been secured by the Directors of Student Activities and they are now on sale in the Student Body office. The tickets retail at $1.10 each which is not only a saving but is additionally valuable since most agencies are sold out weks ahead and it is virtually impossible to secure a ticket.

The State group will meet at Post and Steiner Streets next Thursday night at 8 and then will enter in a body. The seats on sale are all together which will add to the fun. Alice Dostie is chairman of the affair and will have the tickets on sale all next week.

1943 FRANCISCAN READY

Now being distributed, the 1943 Franciscan is the largest issued since 1935, and should prove to be one of the more important records of college life to students , in the years to come.

All persons who purchased the yearbook in the Fall of 1942 may pick up their copy of the book at any time from now on in the office of Dave Schutz, Room 119, College Hall.

Due to the immense popularity of the book, no additional sales can be made at the present time. It is believed, however, that a few copies may be available by the 15th of July.

AIR RAID SIGNALS

FIRE---Three Bells, pause(repeated)
AIR RAID-----continuous ringing.
ALL CLEAR----Single Bell(repeated)

Watch for these .

DR. ELIAS T. ARNESEN OPENS PHILOSOPHY HOUR SERIES

Planned as a means of giving the summer session students a better understanding of the present crisis, the Philosophy Department is presenting a series of vital talks on important issues of the day.

The programs are presented each Wednesday at noon in the Frederic Burk Auditorium. All students are invited to attend.

The first of the Philosophy Hour series was presented last Wednesday by Dr. Elias T. Arnesen who as head of the Philosophy Department welcomed the students and introduced the general topic of the series; " The World in Review".

Then , as his own section, Dr. Arnesen gave; " The Present Clash of Ideals". In it he stressed the need for a more clearly Christian tradition of humanity and brotherhood. He contrasted the democratic liberalism of the United Nations with the ideologies of the totalitarian countries.
